Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 19957

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs Carl Esposito, Barbara Boland, and Anna Molin (“Esposito Plaintiffs”) respectfully submit this Reply in Support of the Esposito Plaintiffs’ Motion to Consolidate ERISA Cases, Appoint Interim Lead Plaintiffs and Interim Co-Lead Counsel. Specifically, this Reply addresses certain arguments contained in the Opposition memorandum submitted by Plaintiffs Gidaro and Donlon.¹

As the prior submissions of Keller Rohrbach L.L.P. (“Keller Rohrbach”) and Cohen, Milstein, Hausfeld & Toll P.L.L.C. (“Cohen Milstein”) show, Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein have unmatched experience and expertise in ERISA class action company stock cases, such as this one, and ERISA class action litigation in general.²

The competing firms cannot genuinely contend that they possess the same level of experience or expertise in this area of law. Moreover, the arguments raised by SSBR and Harwood Feffer – that they are “amply qualified,” that they “filed first,” that their client is a “current employee,” that they live in New York, and the various other arguments they raise, as discussed below,” are without merit as a matter of law, and, thus, fail to present any basis for deviating from the selection of counsel with superior knowledge of ERISA law, experience in cases of this type, and a track record of success both individually and working together as a team. Accordingly, the Esposito Plaintiffs respectfully submit that their motion for appointment of Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein as Interim Co-Lead Counsel should be granted.

¹ See Plaintiffs Gidaro and Donlon’s Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Competing Motions for Interim Lead Counsel (“G&D Opp.”) submitted by Shalov Stone Bonner & Rocco LLP (“SSBR”) and Harwood Feffer LLP (“Harwood Feffer”) on February 19, 2008. Plaintiff Gidaro previously filed a Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Competing Motions for Consolidation and Appointment of Lead Counsel and in Further Support of her Motion (“Gidaro Resp.”) on Dec. 31, 2007.

² See, e.g., Esposito Plaintiffs’ Opposition to Plaintiffs Gidaro and Donlon’s Joint Amended Motion for Entry of [Proposed] Pretrial Order No. 1 Consolidating the ERISA Actions and Appointing Lead Plaintiffs and Interim Lead Counsel, filed on February 15, 2008 (“Esposito Opp. to G&D Joint Mot.”).

II. DISCUSSION

A. The Four Factors of Rule 23(g) Support Appointment of Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein as Interim Co-lead Counsel.

The question before the Court is which of the proposed leadership structures will best represent the interests of the putative Class. As noted in Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein's prior submissions, four factors predominate:

- the work counsel has done in identifying or investigating potential claims in the action;
- counsel's experience in handling class actions, other complex litigation, and claims of the type asserted in the action;
- counsel's knowledge of the applicable law; and
- the resources counsel will commit to representing the class.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(C)(i).

These four factors and the record before this Court support appointment of the Esposito Plaintiffs as lead plaintiffs and their attorneys, Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein, as Interim Co-Lead Counsel.

1. Keller Rohrbach & Cohen Milstein Have the Most Comprehensive ERISA Experience and Expertise to Offer the Class.

The Esposito Plaintiffs previously set forth in detail the basis for their selection and explained how each of the four factors delineated in Rule 23(g) support appointment of Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein as Interim Co-Lead Counsel in this case.³

³ See Memorandum in Support of the Esposito Plaintiffs' Motion to Consolidate ERISA Cases, Appoint Interim Lead Plaintiffs and Interim Co-Lead Counsel, for Entry of Pretrial Order No. 1 ("Esposito Mem."), filed on December 14, 2007, at 13-24; Esposito Plaintiffs' Opposition to (1) Plaintiff Mary Gidaro's Motion For Consolidation and Appointment of Interim Counsel for the Class, and (2) Plaintiff Gregory Yashgur's Motion for Consolidation of all Related ERISA Actions and for Appointment of a Lead Plaintiff and Interim Lead Counsel ("Esposito Opp."), filed on December 28, 2007, at 8-12; and (3) the Esposito Opp. to Joint G&D Mot.

Federal Rule 23(g)(2)(B) states: “If more than one adequate applicant seeks appointment as counsel, the court must appoint the applicant best able to represent the interests of the class.” The conventional wisdom that experience is the most important factor when selecting lead counsel applies with particular force in a complex case of this sort in which the law is rapidly developing. See In re Terazosin Hydrochloride, 220 F.R.D. 672, 702 (S.D. Fla. 2004) (explaining that the “most persuasive” factor in choosing lead counsel pursuant to Rule 23(g) may be proposed counsel’s “experience in, and knowledge of, the applicable law in this field”).⁴

With all due respect to competing counsel, Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein have significantly more experience in ERISA litigation in general, and ERISA company stock litigation in particular, and have devoted substantial resources and time to developing an expertise in this area of law. Both Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein are recognized nationally for the results they have achieved in litigating cases of this same type. We also have earned the respect of leading ERISA scholars and public interest ERISA practitioners. See Esposito Opp. to Joint Amended Motion at 8, citing Exhibits B and E thereto, Declaration of Professor Langbein ¶ 20; Declaration of Nancy Signorelle ¶¶ 15 – 19. See also Declaration of Karen Ferguson, attached hereto as Exhibit A.⁵

⁴ Indeed, many courts have recognized that this is a highly complex and rapidly developing area of law. See, e.g., In re Global Crossing, Sec. & ERISA Litig., 225 F.R.D. 436, 456 (S.D.N.Y. 2004) (finding that “[f]iduciary status, the scope of fiduciary responsibility, the appropriate fiduciary response to the Plans’ concentration in company stock and [Global Crossing’s] business practices would be issues for proof, and numerous legal issues concerning fiduciary liability in connection with company stock in 401(k) plans remain unresolved”).

⁵ Similarly, Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein have received strong support from other counsel in the Merrill cases proposed for consolidation who explain the basis for their support in their submissions. See Plaintiffs Elizabeth Estey and Tara Moore’s Memorandum in Support of the Esposito Plaintiffs’ Motion to Consolidate ERISA Cases, Appoint Interim Lead Plaintiffs and Interim Co-Lead Counsel, for Entry of Pretrial Order No.1, and in Opposition to Plaintiff Gidaro’s Motion for Consolidation and Appointment of Interim Counsel for the Class, filed Feb. 19, 2008 (“Based on these experiences, as well as generally monitoring the status of

Accordingly, we respectfully submit that we are best able to represent the interests of the class in this important, large-scale ERISA class action case.

2. SSBR and Harwood Feffer Cannot Match the ERISA Qualifications of Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein.

SSBR cites to two ERISA breach of fiduciary duty cases in which it acted in a leadership capacity with other firms; it does not and cannot claim that its experience level approaches the combined experience of Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein. For example, Keller Rohrback has achieved settlements for its ERISA clients in analogous cases in excess of $750 million to employees and retirees (Esposito Mem. at 16-17); in comparison, SSBR has achieved ERISA settlements of just over $6 million. G&D Opp. at 5. Indeed, SSBR does not claim any role in the development of this practice area. Nor does it claim to possess any particular expertise in this area. On the contrary, SSBR suggests, inter alia, that Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein's expertise is not important in the selection of lead counsel because briefs we have prepared in other similar cases are available on Pacer and Westlaw. Gidaro Resp. at 7; repeated at G&D Opp. at 9. We submit, however, that SSBR cannot duplicate our advocacy or ERISA experience merely by copying from our work in past cases.

We have devoted years to this practice area, and it is through that process that we have honed the skill set and deep understanding of ERISA law to litigate cases of this type efficiently and effectively. While we do not doubt that SSBR are good lawyers, we believe that our knowledge of ERISA and our track record of success in this precise type of case make us best major complex litigation in Federal and State Courts throughout the United States, we are convinced that KR and CMHT possess the greatest experience and have produced the most significant results in complex ERISA litigation in Federal Courts nationwide when compared with the other law firms involved in this litigation.”); see also Plaintiffs Pascullo and Gonzales Memorandum in Support of Esposito Plaintiffs, filed Feb. 19, 2008.

able to represent the interests of the class, as required for selection under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(2)(B).

Similarly, Harwood Feffer has accomplishments in complex litigation, including the ERISA field. However, Harwood Feffer's ERISA experience does not rival either Keller Rohrback or Cohen Milstein alone. In the G&D Opp. Mem, counsel take issue with the Esposito Plaintiffs' assertion that most of Harwood Feffer's ERISA cases are at relatively early stages. G&D Opp. at 6. But, aside from revisiting a few accomplishments discussed in its earlier briefs, the G&D Opp. Mem. provides no indicia that Harwood Feffer's other previously cited ERISA cases have been litigated much beyond the pleading stage.⁶ There can be no dispute that the combined ERISA experience and success of Keller Rohrback and Cohen Milstein exceeds that of competing counsel.

The G&D Opp. Mem. invokes the nascent *Citigroup ERISA Litigation*⁷ and attempts to persuade this Court that the leadership selection in that case supports the "superiority of Harwood Feffer" here. G&D Opp. at 7. However, Keller Rohrback was not involved in the leadership fight in the Citigroup case, and the suggestion that Judge Stein chose Harwood Feffer over Cohen Milstein as interim lead counsel is false. Cohen Milstein was proposed only as liaison counsel in the Citigroup case.⁸ Indeed, in Citigroup, Judge Stein, sua sponte, noted the extensive ERISA experience of Cohen Milstein's Marc Machiz. In response, Harwood Feffer's co-counsel in the Citigroup case expressly argued that liaison counsel's experience should not be considered in the court's decision.⁹ Consequently, any implication that Judge Stein found the experience of Harwood Feffer superior to that of Cohen Milstein finds no support in the transcript. Moreover, in the instances in which Wechsler Harwood LLP, the predecessor to the recently formed Harwood Feffer, competed with Keller Rohrback for a leadership position in ERISA cases, the courts appointed Keller Rohrback. See, e.g., In re Delphi ERISA Litig., 230 F.R.D. 496, 497-99 (E.D. Mich. 2005) (appointing Keller Rohrback lead counsel over several firms including Wechsler Harwood LLP).

⁶ On the other hand, Keller Rohrback has litigated ERISA cases through fact and expert discovery, class certification, summary judgment and trial preparation, in such cases as Whetman v. IKON, No. MDL 1318 (E.D. Pa.); In re WorldCom ERISA Litig., 02-cv-4816 (DLC) (S.D.N.Y.); In re Williams Co. ERISA Litig., 02-cv-0153 (N. D. Okla.); Tittle v. Enron Corp., 01-cv-4913 (S.D. Tex.); In re CMS ERISA Litig., 02-cv-72834 (E.D. Mich.); In re Polaroid ERISA Litig., 03-cv-8335 (S.D.N.Y.), among many others. Cohen Milstein's is similarly experienced having successfully litigated through trial a variety of ERISA class action cases, including Beam v. HSBC Bank USA, 02-cv-0682(E) (W.D.N.Y.); Banyai v. Mazur, 00-cv-9806(SHS) (S.D.N.Y.); In re Dynege, Inc. ERISA Litig., 03-cv-0423(K), 03-cv-0577 (S.D. Tex.); Zhu v. Fujitsu, 03-cv-1148 (RMW) (N.D. Cal); Simpson v. Fireman's Fund, 05-cv-0225(CW) (N.D. Cal.); Mehling v. New York Life, 99-cv-5417 (E.D. Pa.) (settlement pending final approval); Hargrave v. TXU Corp., 03-cv-0423(K), 03-cv-0577(K) (N.D. Tex) (settlement pending final approval).

⁷ Stephen Grey v. Citigroup, Inc., 07-cv-9790-SHS (S.D.N.Y.) ("Citigroup ERISA Litigation")

B. Rule 23(g) Requires the Court to Appoint the Most Qualified Counsel --Not the First to File a Complaint or First to Move for Consolidation.

In support of its leadership motion, SSBR and Harwood Feffer pick up the argument previously made by SSBR that they should be appointed lead because SSBR filed its complaint before the Esposito Plaintiffs. See Gidaro Resp. at 6-7; repeated G&D Opp. at 8. This argument lacks merit, and, indeed, is contrary to Rule 23(g). See, e.g., Nowak v. Ford Motor Co., et. al., 240 F.R.D. 355, 365 (E.D. Mich. 2006) ("Whether someone was 'first to file' by itself has little to do with who is the best qualified to lead the case, and does not satisfy the requirements of Rule 23(g).”). Indeed, the “race to the courthouse” is a thing of the past, even in securities actions where it once was the common practice. See, e.g., H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 104-369, Joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference (Nov. 28, 1995) (Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 passed with such intent); TCW Tech. Ltd. P’ship v. Intermedia Commc’ns, Inc., No. 18336, 18289, 18293, 2000 Del. Ch. Lexis 147, at *8-9 (Del. Ch. Oct. 17, 2000) (“It is not the race to the courthouse door . . . that impresses the members of this Court when it comes to deciding who should control and coordinate litigation on behalf of the shareholder class....”). Hence, a court should not appoint lead counsel based merely on who filed first, but rather such appointment must be based on a careful consideration of the Rule 23(g) factors.

⁸ See Plaintiffs Shaun Rose and Mark Geruolo's Reply in Further Support of Their Superseding Motion for Consolidation of Related Actions and Appointment of Interim Lead Plaintiffs, Co-Lead Counsel, and Liaison Counsel (D.E. #48) in Stephen Grey v. Citigroup, Inc., 07-cv-9790-SHS (S.D.N.Y.) ("Citigroup ERISA Litigation").

⁹ "I don't think that your Honor can take into consideration the ERISA experience that Mr. [Machiz] has because he is not seeking to be lead counsel in this case, he is only seeking to be liaison counsel in this case...." Exhibit B, Transcript of January 17, 2008 hearing at 9.

Furthermore, despite SSBR’s repeated suggestion that they were “among the first to identify, investigate and plead the claims,” in truth, the various complaints were all filed within a three-and-one-half week period. Accordingly, the fact that SSBR “ostensibly” filed the first action has no bearing on the selection of the most qualified counsel.

SSBR and Harwood Feffer’s other arguments likewise fail to demonstrate that those firms are best qualified to lead this case. They assert that only SSBR made “an effort to avoid burdening the court” by relating the case to the Merrill Lynch Securities Litigation and criticize other firms for having “unnecessarily made duplicative motions.” G&D Opp. at 8. But these arguments ignore the far more burdensome inefficiencies inherent in SSBR’s own race to the courthouse. Its late December filing for appointment of Sole Lead Counsel required an entire round of briefing later rendered moot by counsel’s re-consideration of its strategy and the resulting Joint Amended Motion with Harwood Feffer. The two firms’ belated pairing ensures that significant efforts already have been duplicated in the research and drafting of the complaint.

In contrast, Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein's coordinated investigation, drafting, and continuing collaboration are part and parcel of a history of working as co-counsel with proven results for their firms' clients.¹⁰

Finally, Harwood Feffer and SSBR's argument that they should be appointed lead counsel because Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein "propose to staff the case with four out of state partners and one local liaison partner." G&D Opp. at 8, is grasping at straws. Cohen Milstein has a New York office, and both Keller Rohrbach and Cohen Milstein have many times been appointed lead or co-lead counsel in New York in nationally prominent ERISA class action cases without regard to where the firms are based, including, In re WorldCom, Inc. ERISA Litigation, No. 02-4816 (S.D.N.Y.) (J. Cote); In re Global Crossing ERISA Litigation, No. 02-7453 (S.D.N.Y.) (J. Lynch); In re Polaroid ERISA Litig., No. 03-8335 (S.D.N.Y.) (J. Pauley); In re Marsh ERISA Litig., No. 04-8157 (S.D.N.Y.) (J. Kram). Obviously, where counsel live has nothing to do with who is the most qualified to lead this litigation.

C. Competing Counsel's Assertion that their Client is the Least Likely to be a Former Participant In Merrill's Plan is both Wrong and Irrelevant.

SSBR and Harwood Feffer repeat the argument previously made by SSBR that because Plaintiff Gidaro is the only current employee among the plaintiffs, she is the "least likely" to be a former participant, and, thus, most likely to have standing. G&D Opp. at 10 (repeating same argument as Gidaro Resp. at 8). This argument has no basis in the law, makes no sense, and, is contrary to the best interest of the class.

¹⁰ The G&D Opp. Mem. also resurrects SSBR's prior criticism of Keller Rohrbach's press release announcing the pendency of its investigation. G&D Opp. at n.5. This argument is not well taken. SSBR's proposed Co-Lead counsel, Harwood Feffer, used a nearly-identical press release in connection with its own Merrill Lynch investigation. See Exhibit C attached hereto.

Under ERISA, whether a participant is a current or former employee is irrelevant. It is black letter ERISA law that a plaintiff's participation in the plan, not their employment status, is the relevant inquiry. A plaintiff who is a current plan participant unquestionably has standing to bring suit of this type. See, e.g., Mullins v. Pfizer, 23 F.3d 663, 667 (2d Cir. 1994). On February 15, 2008, Plaintiffs Esposito and Boland filed (and served) declarations demonstrating that they are current plan participants. See Exhibits F and G to the Esposito Opp. to G&D Joint Mot. Accordingly, Plaintiffs Esposito and Boland unquestionably have standing under ERISA to serve as plaintiffs in this case.

SSBR and Harwood Feffer's speculation about who is "least likely" to be a former participant makes no sense, since the Court has before it declarations from Plaintiffs Boland and Esposito attesting to their current participation in the Plans at issue. SSBR and Harwood Feffer have offered no similar declaration from Plaintiff Gidaro.

Moreover, even if Esposito and Boland were not current participants, SSBR and Feffer's argument is contrary to every Court of Appeals considering the issue, all of which have rejected the argument that former participants lack standing to sue under ERISA. See Harzewski v. Guidant Corp., 489 F.3d 799, 803-04 (7th Cir. 2007); Graden v. Conexant Sys. Inc., 496 F.3d 291, 303 (3d Cir. 2007); Bridges v. Am. Elec. Power Co., 498 F.3d 442, 444 (6th Cir. 2007). Second Circuit authority is not to the contrary. See, e.g., In re Polaroid ERISA Litig., 240 F.R.D. 65, 70-72 (S.D.N.Y. 2006).

In a related argument, SSBR and Harwood Feffer argue that Plaintiff Gidaro, as a current employee, is somehow better suited "to adequately represent the interests of current employees, who likely make up a vast majority of the class." G&D Opp. at 11. As made clear above, a proposed lead plaintiff's employment status is a distinction without a difference. Former employees have repeatedly been held appropriate class representatives for classes including both current and former employees. See, e.g., U.S. Fidelity & Guar. Co. v. Lord, 585 F.2d 860, 874 (8th Cir.,1978) (“it is well settled that, even if the class representatives are no longer employees, they may nonetheless be adequate representatives of a class of past and present employees.”); Wetzel v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 508 F.2d 239, 247 (3d Cir. 1975); and Lee v. ABC Carpet & Home, 236 F.R.D. 193, 206 (S.D.N.Y. 2006). This is even more pertinent here, where the claims are being pursued on behalf of the Plan and its beneficiaries, a class for which employment status is entirely irrelevant.

SSBR and Harwood Feffer’s “adequacy” argument is unfortunate. The argument has no basis in fact or law, and appears to be based solely on a desire to promote the interests of SSBR and Harwood Feffer. The fact of the matter is the class, like every ERISA class of participants, will be made up of both current and former employees, all of whom have equal standing under ERISA and were harmed by the conduct alleged in this action. There is no distinction under ERISA law between current and former employees, and only the Defendants gain by arguing otherwise. We categorically reject the argument now and will do so again on class certification if we are appointed co-lead counsel in this case.

III. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, and as outlined in previous submissions, the Esposito Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant their Motion for Consolidation of Related Actions and for Appointment of Interim Lead Plaintiffs and Interim Co-Lead and Liaison Counsel.

DATED: February 20, 2008.

Respectfully submitted,

I, Karen Ferguson, hereby declare as follows:

1. My name is Karen Ferguson. Since its founding in 1976, I have served as the Director of the Pension Rights Center. The Pension Rights Center is located at 1350 Connecticut Ave., NW Suite 206, Washington, D.C. 20036-1739. The Pension Rights Center's website is located at www.pensionrights.org.

2. The Pension Rights Center is a non-profit, consumer organization which has as its mission the protection and promotion of retirement security for workers, retirees and their families. It is the only such organization dedicated solely to this mission. For over thirty years the Pension Rights Center has provided legal representation, informal assistance, and information to tens of thousands of participants and beneficiaries seeking to recover pension and 401(k) benefits and ensure that their plans are prudently managed.

3. In my capacity as the Director of the Pension Rights Center, I oversee the Center's educational, legislative, regulatory, and advocacy programs. I have written numerous articles about pension issues, and I am the co-author of the Pension Book, What You Need to Know to Prepare for Retirement (1996).

4. I am a graduate of Harvard Law School, and a Charter Fellow of the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel. Before starting the Pension Rights Center, I worked as a lawyer for the federal government, a law firm, a public interest group, and a large pension fund.

5. I have known Marc Machiz since he was a trial attorney at the United States Department of Labor in the early 1980s. Over the years, I have had the opportunity to work with him both as a government official when he served as Associate Solicitor of Labor and the Department of Labor's chief ERISA lawyer from 1988 to 2000, and in private practice after he joined Cohen, Milstein, Hausfeld & Toll, P.L.L.C. as a partner. In July of 2000, Mr. Machiz was inducted into the American College of Employee Benefits Counsel as a Charter Fellow, one of fewer than ten lawyers regularly representing participants and beneficiaries to receive that honor.

6. Throughout his career, both as a government official and in private practice, I have known Mr. Machiz as a knowledgeable and dedicated advocate for the rights of participants.

7. Mr. Machiz's reputation in the ERISA community generally, and in the smaller community of those who have chosen to represent the interests of employee benefit plan participants, is excellent. He is sought after as a speaker on legal issues bearing on pension rights.

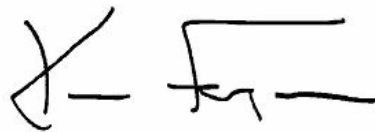

8. As Director of the Pension Rights Center I have invited Mr. Machiz to participate in educational programs sponsored by the Center. I have also asked him to provide advice to groups representing pension plan participants and beneficiaries and individual pension plan participants.

9. Repeatedly, the Pension Rights Center has chosen Mr. Machiz and his firm to file amicus briefs on our behalf in cases involving issues that are central to the ability of pension plan participants to protect their rights. Most recently, Mr. Machiz co-authored a brief for the Pension Rights Center before the Supreme Court of the United States in the pending case of Larue v. Dewolff, Boberg and Associates Inc., No. 06-856. A copy of the brief is posted on our website at http://www.pensionrights.org/action/courts/amicus_briefs/larue_v_dewolff_prc_amicus_brief.pdf. The case will decide whether 401(k) plan participants can seek monetary relief under ERISA to restore losses to plans that affect the accounts of fewer than all plan participants. Previously, Mr. Machiz has authored or co-authored briefs on behalf of the Pension Rights Center in Langbecker v. EDS, 476 F.3d 299 (5th Cir. 2007) (on appeal and in support of rehearing en banc addressing the proper interpretation of the Department of Labor's regulation under section 404(c) of ERISA) and Harley v. 3M, 284 F.3d 901 (8th Cir. 2002) cert. den. 537 U.S. 1106 (2003) (brief in support of certiorari) (addressing participant standing to sue for losses to overfunded defined benefit plans).

10. Based on my experience with Mr. Machiz's work, and the work of his firm, I would not hesitate to recommend him and his firm to others seeking representation in litigation arising under Title I of ERISA. On behalf of the Pension Rights Center, I will continue to seek Mr. Machiz's advice and representation in the future. Mr. Machiz is indisputably one of the leading ERISA lawyers in the country representing participants and beneficiaries of pension plans. Without question, I would recommend Mr. Machiz and his firm to represent a class of participants and beneficiaries alleging imprudence in the management of 401(k) plan assets.

I declare, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and that this declaration was executed this 20th day of February 2008, in the District of Columbia.

Argument

1 But, in addition to serving the requests, getting the ERISA
2 documents, and hiring a damage expert, we have investigated --
3 we have an in-house investigator who has been delving more
4 deeply into the facts in preparation of the consolidated
5 complaint. And I don't think that there's anybody here that
6 can say that they have done anything, let alone more than us,
7 to move this case along.

8 THE COURT: Tell me about your ERISA experience. We 9 have Mr. Machiz, who spent twelve years in the government
10 dealing with ERISA cases, and as I say, the other action he 11 represents the plaintiff on before me is an ERISA case as well.
12 So I'd like to hear about the ERISA experience of your firm.

13 You mentioned the In Re: AIG Litigation. Is that the 14 one before Judge Sprizzo?

15 MS. ROSNER: That's the one before Judge Sprizzo.

16 THE COURT: And the other guys take potshots at you
17 saying: Well, he didn't appoint anyone lead/colead counsel.
18 He said I don't do that until I determine whether or not
19 there's a class. So everybody is here. Congratulations. Work
20 together. And we'll move forward. That's the way I took that 21 transcript.

22 MS. ROSNER: Not necessarily. I think he was going to 23 appoint my firm and Squitieri. I said to the court I think 24 that's unfair to Keller Rohrback. And as a result of that, the 25 court included Keller Rohrback as well as Mr. Harwood's firm,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

Argument

1 and that's how it came about. But, we did move with Keller
2 Rohrback to be colead counsel. And, in fact, they had no
3 problem with our ERISA experience. Indeed, we brought them
4 into the case in order to broaden the ERISA experience, just as
5 we brought Mr. Harwood into the case because of his extensive
6 ERISA experience.

7 Now I don't think that your Honor can take into 8 consideration the ERISA experience that Mr. Madrose has because 9 he is not seeking to be lead counsel in this case. He is only 10 seeking to be liaison counsel in this case and unless he --

11 THE COURT: Are you talking about Mr. Machiz?

12 MS. ROSNER: Mr. Machiz is seeking to be liaison or 13 local counsel in this case.

14 THE COURT: I'm going to have some questions for them
15 because it does look like the group was shifting who it was 16 asking to be lead counsel.

17 Go ahead.

18 MS. ROSNER: So, you really have to analyze the 19 qualifications of our two firms, the resources we bring, the 20 combined experience we bring, and the work that we've done
21 against the Schatz and the Stull firm.

22 THE COURT: Tell me, again, about your ERISA
23 experience outside of AIG. And tell me about Mr. Harwood as 24 well, unless you wanted him to say, because you propose that 25 you work together. Talk to me a little about the ERISA

Harwood Feffer Announces an Investigation On Behalf of Participants and Beneficiaries of the Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Plan

NEW YORK, Nov. 2, 2007 (PRIME NEWSWIRE) -- The New York law firm of Harwood Feffer LLP today announced that it has commenced an investigation on behalf of participants and beneficiaries of the Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. ("Merrill Lynch" or the "Company") (NYSE:MER) Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the "Plan") for violations of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 in relation to the handling of investments in the Plan by certain named and unnamed administrators and fiduciaries.

In particular, the investigation focuses on whether the Company and certain Plan administrators breached their fiduciary duties of loyalty and prudence to the Plan and its participants by, inter alia: (a) misrepresenting and failing to disclose material facts to the Plan and the Plan participants in connection with the management of the Plan's assets and (b) permitting the Plan to be invested in Merrill Lynch common stock when it was imprudent to do so.

If you are a Plan participant and hold shares of Merrill Lynch common stock in your retirement benefit plan and want to discuss this investigation with an attorney or have any questions concerning this notice, your legal rights or any matter within our expertise, you may e-mail or call Robert H. Harwood at 877-935-7400 (ext. 226), or another firm representative who will, without obligation or cost to you, attempt to answer your questions. Harwood Feffer has taken a leading role in many important actions on behalf of defrauded shareholders, employee investors, and consumers and is responsible for hundreds of millions of dollars in recoveries. The Harwood Feffer website (www.hfesq.com) contains detailed information regarding this matter and additional information about the firm.
